Description

Resting Bell celebrates the 100th release with a small release-series, consisting of 4 parts. The fourth part is done by Appalachian Falls.

“GrimGrimAntonym” is a 30 minute-work consisting of two live sessions with an array of distortion pedals and tape machines. Both works are full of haunted tones and distorted fragments. A massive wall of sound crackling in your ears and melting your brain, evolving to smoother soundscapes which are transformed back into a volcanic blow out.

My recommendation for this: Hear it as loud as possible.

Thanks will never be enough but it is all I am left with.
